HONORING THE LIFE OF WILLIAM R. "BILL" ALLDER, JR., NATIONAL GEOSPATIAL-INTELLIGENCE AGENCY SENIOR EXECUTIVE

HON. CHRIS VAN HOLLEN

OF MARYLAND

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, May 12, 2005

Mr. VAN HOLLEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise in honor of the life of William R. "Bill" Alder, Jr., a senior executive with the National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency (NGA). Bill Alder, who faithfully served the United States Government for more than 30 years, passed away on May 7, 2005. He was a dedicated public servant who made a lasting contribution to keeping our Nation safe.

Mr. Alder was a respected leader at the National Oceanic Service, the U.S. Geological Survey, the Defense Mapping Agency, the Central Imagery Office, the National Imagery and Mapping Agency, and most recently, NGA, where he served as the Director of NGA's Strategic Transformation Office. He helped stand-up NGA's predecessor, the National Imagery and Mapping Agency. An intellectual pioneer of the Nation's geospatial intelligence discipline that has become a bedrock of the intelligence community, Mr. Alder was a world-class information technology manager who directed the development and deployment of large, complex systems worldwide.

To the legions of government employees and aerospace and defense contractors he managed over the years, he will be most remembered for his photographic memory, unerring judgment, decisive leadership, and wonderful sense of humor. Mr. Alder's numerous awards include the Meritorious Service Award, the Meritorious Civilian Service Award, the Presidential Rank Awards of Meritorious Executive, and several Distinguished Executive Awards. He is survived by his wife Susan "Soozi" Alder, a daughter Jacquelyn and a son, William R. Alder III, and by two sisters, Elizabeth "Bette" Rutherford and Diane DuBois. Mr. Speaker, I ask that you join me in honoring the exceptional life of an extraordinary public servant who will be greatly missed by all.

NATIONAL NURSES WEEK

HON. MIKE ROSS

OF ARKANSAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, May 12, 2005

Mr. ROSS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to acknowledge National Nurses Week. In honor of this week, I would like to take a moment to recognize and praise the tireless efforts and critical role that nurses play in the health and well-being of our communities across America. Nurses, like my late grandmother, are a cornerstone of health care in this country.

A nurse's role goes far beyond the hospital; nurses reach into charity clinics, in-home care, churches, and school volunteer health programs. Nurses conduct research, publish, review and continue to educate their peers and the public about their ever-evolving role and positive impact on the health care community. Nursing students seek guidance from nurse mentors and work alongside professionals not only in the scholastic setting but in the community at large, participating in educational offerings, community service projects, legislative endeavors, health fairs and many other activities.

Our Nation's nurses are a valuable part of our society and therefore deserve our continued support for their profession. Currently, this profession is facing some serious challenges. In Arkansas and all over America, we are faced with a nursing shortage. There are over 25,000 nurses registered in Arkansas, and over 1,000 of those are nurse practitioners. For a State with 2.5 million citizens, this is simply not enough. The low nurse to patient ratio is far below what it needs to be and therefore we need to do more to increase the number of nurses, while also supporting our existing ones.

Unfortunately, nursing programs are severely underfunded in the fiscal year 2006 budget. The president's budget has requested $150 million for nursing workforce development programs, including the Nurse Reinvestment Act. That figure represents a cut of $1 million over the FY 2005 funding level. With a predicted nursing shortage of more than 275,000 registered nurses by the year 2010, this is the wrong time to be cutting back our investment in this country's future nurses.

As a member committed to supporting our nurses, I, along with fellow colleagues, sent a request to the appropriations committee for $175 million that will go toward nurse workforce development programs, which will enable nurses to receive the proper training necessary to keep up with their ever-evolving profession. These funds would also be used to provide incentives for students and nurses to receive advanced degrees in the nursing profession and student loan programs.

Nurses are a critical component of health care in this country, offering support and providing assistance at every step of the health care process. I commend nurses for their hard work and tireless efforts, from school nurses to emergency rooms, and charity clinics to nursing homes. As a United States Congressman, I will continue to fight to ensure nurses are adequately funded and have the resources they need to continue to properly care for our Nation's children, working families, and elderly.

IN HONOR AND RECOGNITION OF
DR. DUNCAN N.P. PRITCHETT, JR.

HON. JULIA CARSON

OF INDIANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, May 12, 2005

Ms. CARSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to comment upon and advise my colleagues in this House about the life of an illustrious educator in Indianapolis, Indiana.

Dr. Duncan N.P. Pritchett, Jr., almost universally known as "Pat," began his career as an Indianapolis Public Schools teacher in 1969, fresh out of college. In time he left the classroom to lead as a principal, an administrator, and since 1997 as Superintendent of IPS, directing the education of 39,000 students in 79 schools in the heart of Indianapolis, finding innovative ways to improve their opportunities and performance. But in all of this he has stayed in touch with students and their families; he'll often be found in a classroom, reading, or at an assembly sitting in the crowd and appreciating the work of students and teachers.

Pat has been honored time and again. He was the 2002 Outstanding Alumnus of Ball State University Teacher's College. He was
